

WHITMAN URGED BULL MOOSE- G. O. P. ALLIANCE, SAYS T. R.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 30.—A bomb was thrown into New York — and possible national — politics in the Barnes-Roosevelt libel trial yesterday.

A proposal by Gov. Whitman of an alliance of New York Progressives and progressive Republicans to rid the state of machine misgovernment was the coup sprung by the Roosevelt side.

The colonel said he read the Whitman letter, written last fall, when Whitman was district att'y, and relied upon it in attacking Barnes during the 1914 primaries.

Roosevelt's testimony was finally concluded at 12:15. It was the eighth day he had been on the stand and when excused he had been under examination for thirty-eight hours and fifteen minutes. Before springing the Whitman letter the colonel gave a dramatic recital of how he approved acquisition by the street trust of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Co. to stop the 1907 panic.

The colonel also told how he had prosecuted big corporations despite their contributions to his presidential campaign fund.

WHO'S WHO?

Boston.—Two nights' wake, burial in family lot, insurance money spent — for corpse of Patrick J. Coleman. Coleman, hale and hearty, returned from Canada. Now it's "who's who" in the family lot.

BITS OF NEWS

West Salem, Wis.—Brick building collapsed into foundation excavation on Main st. Several laborers narrowly escaped.

New York. — Victoriano Huerta, former president of Mexico, has invested $300,000 (Mex.) in Harlem real estate.

Warren, O.—May Unger of Allentown, Pa., comely and 19, arrested disguised as boy, for robbing railroad detective of gun and badge.

SHE WAS SOME DISCOVERER HERSELF—ALSO TANGOER

Denver, Colo., April 30. — After a chase from Des Moines, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City, finally Denver, Mrs. Nellie Cowger, mother of Mrs. Bettie Steinburg of Des Moines, 17, brought the girl to the police station today and had her locked up. The mother said the girl was a runaway. Mrs. Steinburg was defiant.

Some of her philosophy about life as expressed to the police today follows: "Christopher Columbus had nothing on me. He discovered America Oct. 14, 1492. I discovered marriage was a failure—for me—on Oct. 14, 1914.

"My husband had plenty of money but he was an old gink and I did not like him.

"My mother swore that I was 18 when I married. How can she swear that I am only 17 now?

"I've tangoed all over Denver. Lots of local men will get nervous chills when they see my picture in the paper and stop to think what I could tell if I wanted to. Take my picture, because mother doesn't want you to. I'm for anything she's against."
